MEDIA EDUCATION IS OUR PASSION

We are now taking registrations for our ClayMation Camp participants

The Purpose of This Camp

Working with clay is an art of it's own. Taking clay and molding it into a character of a kid's imagination captures the sheer creativity of design. This coupled with the opportunity for girls to work as part of a camp with other girls makes for a unique environment that fosters creativity and innovation.

About The Camp

ClayMation is a camp for girls to animate clay characters they've designed through the process of stop motion capture. With the help of a female instructor and camp mentors, participants write, storyboard, animate and edit their own animated short film. Participants don't only create their own claymation short film, they also take home their characters they use for their productions!

*"The mind is not a vessel to be filled, but a fire to be lit."
- Plutarch*

Camp participants will also create their own set and props offering a greater range of story development and staging. The basics of lighting and camera work will also be taught.

Note: The focus of this camp will be on learning the art of animation in a fun, collaborative, safe environment.

What's Covered

This week long intensive program will introduce visual storytelling through the process of stop motion animation. The advanced group will extend the learning through activities around cinematography, lighting, and visual effects using more sophisticated equipment.
